TEST ON ANIMALS

JOIN THE GLOBAL BOYCOTT OF THIS CRUEL COMPANY

P&G are a huge, powerful and immensely wealthy company with worldwide operations. They exist for one reason and one reason only - to make as much money as possible. They continue to test on animals to push new chemicals on to the market in order to maximise their already huge profits.

P&G admit, when pushed, that rabbits, guinea pigs, hamsters, ferrets, rats and mice are among the animals they use in poisoning tests. IAMS/Eukanuba, P&G's pet food division, also test on cats and dogs. This company is responsible for the painful deaths of thousands of animals every year.

PAIN AND SUFFERING ON AN UNIMAGINABLE LEVEL

For example, P&G are researching new ultra-tiny 'nanoparticles' for use in cosmetics and toiletries. This deliberate infliction of pain and suffering involves forcing animals to inhale tiny particles and killing them to assess the amount of damage the particles cause to their lungs.

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Money is the only language P&G understand. Ultimately, by boycotting their products, you hold the key to saving the lives of the animals who suffer and die for the sake of 'whiter whites' and 'softer, younger looking skin'. Please join the international boycott of all P&G's brands:

PET FOOD CRUELTY EXPOSED

P&G keep dogs and cats in cages for years and years in order to experiment on them for their pet food brands IAMS and Eukanuba. An undercover investigation revealed that dogs may spend their entire lives in cages. It won't surprise you to learn that the dogs become timid and depressed.
